WILLIAMS CAUGHT; POLICE STOPPED
TROOPS SAVE HIM THE FANCY BALLCaptured in Barnesville by Town Marshal Last Night.

MOB WAS READY WITH ROPE

Governor Orders Out Soldiers To Save the Trembling Wretch.

THE TOWN WAS FULL OF ANGRY MEN

At 2 o'clock This Morning the Barnesville Blues Were Guarding the Calaboose in Which Williams Was Imprisoned.

The Mob Gone.

Oscar Williams, the negro who has been chased through four counties by an angry mob of outraged Clayton county citizens, was captured last night in Barnesville.This morning at 2 o'clock armed soldiers are guarding Oscar Williams from the mob that is waiting to take him from the little jail where he was placed after his capture by the marshal of that town.Later he was spirited away for safe keeping.The negro has been positively identified as the one who committed the assault in Henry county, near Lovejoy, last Saturday, and he admits that his name is Oscar Williams.He was caught last night about 9 o'clock.
He was going into Barnesville when arrested, and as he fitted the description of Williams, he was nabbed. When caught he failed to make a satisfactory explanation of himself. He said he was Oscar Williams and had been living near Zebu-lon. He claims that there are two Oscar Williamses and that he is not the one wanted by the law.Williams would have been swinging to a telegraph pole this morning but for the prompt action of Mayor Huguley, of Barnesville. The mayor saw that the mob was going to lynch the prisoner and he went to the governor to order out the troops.The governor authorized the mayor to call out the military and in a few minutes the Barnesville Blues were marching down to the guardhouse with their guns, and in full uniform. When the troops arrived for the scene the crowd had already formed for the lynching. The train from Griffin had carried down a large number, and all of them seemed determined to take Wil-iams' life.At first the mob seemed disposed to pay little attention to the soldiers, but the firm demeanor of the armed troops soon convinced the crowd that there would be trouble if an attempt was made to lynch Williams.The crowds were on the streets around the guard house nearly all night, and much excitement prevailed. By 12 o'clock the cooler headed ones had dispersed and by 1 the streets were almost deserted but for the soldiers, who walked around the guard house with fixed bayonets.Late at night Governor Atkinson was asked for instructions, and he telephoned the officers in Barnesville to carry the prisoner to Macon or Atlanta. The officers in Barnesville expressed the fear that the negro would be pulled from the train if brought to Atlanta through Griffin, Jasperboro or Lovejoy.Governor Atkinson advised that the prisoner be carried to Macon, and he was sent in Atlanta, then brought here over the Southern railway.There seems to be no doubt that the right man is at last caught. He has been identified by the man wanted in Henry and his actions bear out the belief that he is the man.Governor Offers Reward.
Early yesterday morning Governor Atkinson received a petition from the citizens of Lovejoy asking him that he offer a reward for Williams. The governor was already considering the advisability of such an action, and as soon as he received the petition he instructed his secretary to advertise a reward of $300 for the negro.The reward was not to be paid unless the negro was delivered to the jailer of either the Fulton or Bibb county jails.
This requirement was made so as to further protect the prisoner. The governor thought that he could be taken out of any little jail and he demanded that he be carried to either Atlanta or Macon.The notice of the reward was at once telegraphed and telegraphed all over the state.Governor Atkinson stated that one great reason why he offered the reward was that it might serve to save the negro's life. He thought the mob would be much less likely to lynch Williams if there was a reward for his delivery.

Military Ordered Out.

About 11 o'clock Governor Atkinson was awakened by a telephone message from Barnesville. Mayor Huguley, of the little town, wanted the governor to order out the troops to protect the negro. He said that the mob showed an evident intention of lynching the prisoner and he thought that if not protected by the military he

Last Night's Masquerade Ball Results in Riot.

BLUECOATS CALL THE DANCE

Wild Scenes Followed and a Rush For Doors Was Made.

FINALE COMES TODAY IN POLICE COURT

Hacks and Patrol Wagons Were Called Into Service To Carry the Gay Participants to the Station House Where Cases
Were Made.The masquerade ball at the coliseum last night was concluded at the police station and all the principals were released on couples, while the spectators were summoned to appear in police court today as witnesses.When the ball opened at 9 o'clock there were about fifty persons on the floor. The immense building was brilliantly lighted and the scene was one of gayety revelry.
The dancing had begun when the police officers, acting under instructions from the chief, raised the building and arrested all who were on the floor.When the arrests were made the dancers resented the action of the police and a general fight followed, in which beer bottles and glasses flew thick and fast. Blood flowed freely and the fight, though brief, was fast and furious. Sergeant Abbott was under orders from Chief Connolly to arrest everybody in the place if there were any women of a questionable character at the dance.The dancers did not arrive until about 9 o'clock, and there was no dancing until about 10. It was at this time that the sale of beer and whisky was stopped and the police began to arrest the dancers.
Developed, however, that part of the crowd had come prepared for such an emergency and large and suggestive bottles were produced.It took only a short time for most of those to get under the influence of whisky and beer. Sergeant Abbott announced at 10:30 o'clock that he had instructions to arrest all who participated in the affair. This caused a panic and some of the crowd made a dash for the door. Several succeeded in escaping, but the greater part were headed off.The women were ordered into the dressing room to await the arrival of the patrol wagon, and the men were told to wait in the center of the track. All were urged to keep quiet.Neither of these orders were obeyed.
The men persisted in going back to the dressing room of the women and the women would come into the place where the men were congregated, and for a time it looked as if the officers would have trouble.Threats were freely made, and the officers were struck several times. It was only the coolness that saved them, for they had they struck with the clubs which they were several times forced to brandish in self-defense. It is certain that a serious riot would have been precipitated.As soon as the crowd saw that it was impossible to provoke the policemen, ether of the two sides began to break up.
A great many of them turned their attention to escaping, and this kept the officers running from door to door to see that they were not followed. The police were not satisfied with the result, and they commenced to tear up the men, which resulted in a fight.By the time that one young man, who, in his exuberance of spirit, hit another on his head with a piece of tin piping, causing an ugly wound, which bleed profusely and which looked as if a surgeon had commenced to treat his skull and had left the job half completed.A few blows had been exchanged and when the policemen again came upon the scene, having been attracted by the noise, they speedily quelled the rioters, but their trouble was not over, for each man insisted on having everybody else arrested, and the officers made the best of a bad job by announcing that all were prisoners.In the meantime a patrol wagon and many hacks had been telephoned for, and they came with a rush. After their arrival with several officers the men and women were all driven like sheep to the entrance of the building and packed away like sardines in the patrol wagon and hacks. On the wagon there were fourteen prisoners, most of them dressed in fantastic costumes.By the time they arrived at the police barracks silliness and anger had given way to jollity, and it was a very gay crowd that rolled up to the station. Here men and women were given their liberty and a copy of charges against them. They will report to Judge Andy at his matinee this afternoon, there to give an account of their actions at the affair last evening.Probably the man who is more disgusted with the affair than any one else is Charley Sassen, who gave the ball. The whole affair was a failure, expenses were not made, the costumes, nearly all of which were rented from Sassen, were torn, and it is doubtful if the rest will ever be returned.The whole matter will be thoroughly sifted by the recorder this afternoon.

APOLOGY MAY BE DEMANDED.

Vice Consul Investigating Tearing Down of Flag at Monterey.Monterey, Cal., July 14.—Honorable Laidley, Portuguese vice consul at San Francisco, has arrived here to investigate the incident of the tearing down and burning of the flag of Portugal, which Manuel Orlina, a Portuguese grocer, had hoisted on the 14th of July. Consul Laidley says that if the trouble cannot be satisfactorily explained Portugal will demand apology from the United States.The crowd which hauled down and burned the Portuguese emblem was composed of young men.

SULTAN MAKES ANOTHER PLAY

Report of the Imperial Council Stigmatizes the Concert of Europe as a League Against the Crescent.Constantinople, July 14.—Important ministerial councils were held on Sunday and Monday, at which an indemnity of £5,000,000 was agreed upon as the extreme limit of Turkey's concession. This agreement was sanctioned by an imperial firman.The council further prepared a report stigmatizing the concert of Europe as a "league of the cross against the crescent." The sultan, after considering the report, answered by the following firman:"I am convinced that the effort and energy of the powers are directed entirely toward the maintenance of peace and the prevention of fresh complications. In these circumstances, it is the plain duty of Turkey, whose sentiments are likewise pacific, to put an end to the present abnormal situation."The foregoing is authentic but is regarded as a ruse intended to delay a decision, although it seems quarters it has led to the belief that tomorrow's council will decide to meet Europe's views on the frontier question.Confirmation has been received of the report that the Turks are constructing a military road in one of the passes of Mount Othrys and are preparing to resume hostilities.

DEPUTY SHERIFF SHOT DOWN

Tried To Arrest Three Brothers Running a Blind Tiger.

ENTERED HOUSE OF ONE MEN

Another Officer, Hearing a Shot, Rushed in Only To Be Covered with Guns—Escape of Brothers.Centry, Ala., July 14.—(Special.)—This city was thrown into great excitement about 11 o'clock this morning by the killing of Deputy Sheriff Houston Webb. Webb, with a special deputy sheriff, Joe Willids, went to arrest Joe, James and John Simmons, three brothers who had been operating a blind tiger in this district and who were wanted in Georgia on requisition papers.Webb went to the dwelling and Williams to another building some distance off.
Williams, hearing firing from the building where he had just left Webb, rushed back there and found Webb lying on the ground dead. In his expiring moments he stated that he had killed him. Williams found three of the Simmons standing there heavily armed. They covered him with their pistols and made him turn back. They then made their escape.Ten miles off they cut the Alabama and Georgia long distance telephone line and it is thought from this that they were making their way to Gadsden. Webb was a married man and forty years old.

Two Reservoirs in the Fishkill Mountains Burst Their Walls.

MANY LIVES HAVE BEEN LOST

Five Bodies Have Been Removed from the Dutchess Valley and Many People Are Missing.Poughkeepsie, N. Y., July 14.—Two large reservoirs in the Fishkill mountains which supplied water to the towns of Matteawan and Fishkill burst their walls at 2 o'clock this morning and the water reached three miles lying beneath the flood of debris, which is all that remains of the three houses that were swept away by the mighty torrents.The names of those whose bodies have been recovered, as officially given out by Coroner H. B. Devier, of Matteawan, tonight, are:MRS. JOHN CONROY, aged thirty-eight, wife of the engineer in Timony's brick yard; her body was found in the water near the Dutchess valley, and was covered with mud and bruises.WILLIAM FERRY, aged nine years, son of Mrs. FERRY, the body was found in the covered with mud and bruises.PHILAMENA DELUCA, an Italian girl, six years old; the body was not multi-tated.The missing are:

Engineer Conroy.Julia Conroy, aged six years, a daughter of Engineer Conroy.An unknown Hungarian, whose brother declared that he was drowned.

AFTER HIM WITH GUN AND ROPE

Negro Commits Outrage in Carroll and May Be Lynched.Carrollton, Ga., July 14.—(Special.)— The excitement in Carrollton tonight has never been equaled in the annals of the city. The whole town and surrounding country are on the war path, and in hot pursuit of one of the most fiendish brutes that ever lived.On Monday night Oscar Dallas, a negro seventeen years old, entered the house of Mrs. Drewry and seized Miss Tommie Drewry by the throat, severely choking her and at the same time attempting to assault her. He became frightened by the alarm given by the lady and fled.Very few people knew anything about the affair until this afternoon. Upon its being made known the whole town rose up to resist the outrage. The country is full of posses in hot pursuit of Dallas. He was seen in Bremen, Ga., this morning.

TRANSFER CASE GROWS LIVELY

City's Transfer Ordinance Was Not Read Out Correctly.

COLLIER AT ONCE PROTESTED

He and City Attorney Anderson Grew Vigorous in Court—Matter Was Finally Straightened Out.Asheville, N. C., July 14.—(Special.)—The argument of the transfer case was closed today. It was opened this morning by Colonel N. J. Hammond, who contended for the proposition that Mr. Skene had the right to stay in court because of his holding of stock in the Consolidated. Then hecontended for the proposition announced by Mr. Brandon on yesterday and reviewed Judge Pendleton's argument at length.Mr. J. Carroll Payne followed Colonel Hammond in a very able speech in support of the cross bill which he had filed for the Consolidated. He announced several new propositions and among others he argued that the reservation in the ordinance submitted by the city and the ordinance of the Consolidated, which provided that it should operate all its lines subject to all "ordinances of the city," meant only that legal ordinances and such as the city had the right to pass. He made this point very clear and cited strong authorities to support it.Confirmation has been received of the report that the Turks are constructing a military road in one of the passes of Mount

Commission of Arbitration Visited the and Agreement Is in Sight.Pittsburg, July 14.—The prospect for a settlement of the great miners' strike is brighter tonight than at any time since the struggle began, and both sides are almost ready to count on a resumption of work in the near future. The cheering announcement is made tonight that W. P. De Armit, president of the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal Company, whose 1,200 men have been constantly at work, and without whose assistance the success of the movement would have been jeopardized, has agreed to join with the other operators in a plan for the settlement of the strike on a true uniformity basis. This result has been brought about through the efforts of the members of the joint arbitration commis-

The first delegation to the Young People's Baptist Young People's Union, auxiliary to the Southern Baptist convention; Rev.

J. D. Jordan, who recently resigned the secretaryship of the Baptist Young People's

MADE TO PAY UPJoint Resolution Reported by Foreign Relations Committee

ON THE COMPETITOR CASE

President Empowered To Take Necessary Action

TO EFFECT RELEASE OF AMERICANS

Besides To Restore Vessel to Its Owner.
Resolution Calls Trial of Men a "Mockery."Washington, July 14.—Senator Davis, chairman of the committee on foreign relations, today reported from that committee the following joint resolution:"That the president be empowered to take such measures as in his judgment may be necessary to obtain the release by the Spanish government of the schooner Competitor, owned by the United States, and to restore the schooner to its owner, and to exercise such powers as may be necessary."The report recites all the facts that have been brought out in the Competitor case, her ownership, capture, and citizenship of the three men named in the resolution, together with the proceedings thus far had by the Spanish authorities, the trial, sentence, etc. The report characterizes it a "mockery of a trial." The affidavits of the parties are cited to show that they were coerced into Spanish waters, in which case they were not amenable to Spanish jurisdiction. They were not subject to piracy and intended no act of depredation on the high seas, and they were subject to the Spanish authorities on account of alleged rebellion. The report then says:"Irrespective of any of the foregoing considerations, the conduct of Spain, as here-before detailed, constitutes such delay and denial of justice and such an actual infringement of justice upon these men as to make it the duty of this committee to demand reparation therefor, irrespective of any other consideration. The committee is committed to the date of their capture.
Among the acts of reparation which ought to be demanded should be the release of these captives."Secretary Evans is quoted to sustain this position. The report declares that the rights of the men have been violated and continues:"They have been tried and sentenced to death by a summary military courtmarial in a proceeding which has been annulled by the appellate courts of Madrid, and the ground that such a courtmarial had no jurisdiction whatever over them. Ten months have elapsed since this death sentence was annulled and they have not again been brought to trial

WILL CLAY EVANS GIVE UP IN DISGUST

There Are Rumors That the Tennessee
May Resign.

BADLY TREATED BY M'KINLEY Was Not Permitted To Control the Patternage from His State.

NOT SATISFIED WITH CONDITION OF AFFAIRS

Republican Leader Is Angry Because His Friends Have Been Ignored by the Administration.

Washington, July 14.—(Special.)—The administration is in danger of losing one of its most prominent and most competent officials.

If there is truth in the story that comes to me tonight, the liveliest kind of a political sensation is brewing. It is a story of special interest in the south, for at the bottom of the trouble which is expected to culminate so soon is the "southern situation" as it exists in the republican party.

The man whose resignation is among the under-the-surface predictions is none other than H. Clay Evans, commissioner of pensions. As the story comes to me, Mr.
Evans is not only disgusted, but very much hurt at the lack of consideration he has received at the hands of the administration, and he is not a man who will consent to such treatment from anybody—the president or anybody else.

Has Been Thrown Down Hard.
It is all a matter of patronage in the distribution of the Tennessee places Evans has been persistently and forcibly thrown down, and his feelings are badly hurt. It is no case of ordinary pique. There are excellent reasons why the man from Tennessee should feel so just as anybody else who has been treated as he has would feel, and Evans, who is no mere office seeker, and who is in no sense dependent upon office, is just the man to express his feelings in the most forcible language and throw up his office in disgust.

When Mr. Evans, who had aspired to the vice presidential nomination and who had been given the distinct promise of a place in the cabinet as a reward for the work resulting from the blow which Mark Hanna landed on his solar plexus at St. Louis, was offered the pension commissionership many of his admirers were indignant. They regarded such a place, though an excellent one as offices go, and one much sought after, as far beneath that which Mr. Evans should have. They said he would decline it.

When he accepted they smiled significantly and said there was just one reason for his coming to Washington, and that was to show the amateurs of the anti-Evans crowd in Tennessee who was closest to the administration—who was the real boss in that state; he was coming for the purpose of taking absolute control of the distribution of patronage for that state and no man who did not bear the Evans stamp was to have any sort of consideration. They even went so far as to declare that the gentleman from Chattanooga had been given direct assurances to this effect by the president.

Mr. Evans never said this. Mr. Evans, when asked about Tennessee patronage, would say nothing, but he would smile a satisfied smile which meant as clearly as if he had said it in so many words: "Just watch me do 'em; I'll show 'em a thing or two."

Brownlow Rubs It In.
There are two factions among Tennessee Republicans. Congressman Walter Brownlow is at the head of one, Commissioner Evans of the other. Brownlow is national committee man. In the fight for office, there has been a general lining up between the two factions—both would be leaders making their recommendations. It is perhaps characteristic of the bitterness of the fight between the factions that Brownlow in his recommendations seems to have selected the men most distasteful to Evans. They are without exception men whom the commissioner holds as personally offensive and against them he has waged a persistent, relentless warfare.

The results have been such as to bring pain and sorrow to Mr. Evans and his followers. True, Mr. Evans has succeeded in demonstrating who is boss of the republican party of Tennessee, but unfortunately for his friends and for his political career back home, he has proved it is Brownlow who is boss, not Evans.

Without a single exception the Brownlow

Ten Thousand Suicides.

More men murder themselves than are told of in the papers. A hundred men kill themselves by overwork, overworry, neglect of health, to one who uses a pill.
A man has a little trouble with his head, his stomach, his nerves—he doesn't sleep well, or feel well, and he doesn't pay any attention to it. He loses flesh and strength and says: "Bye and bye" he will take a vacation.

He lies to himself.
What he needs is a tonic, a blood maker, a nerve builder. He needs Dr.
Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is the most wonderful health maker in the whole world. It puts the entire body into good order. It begins on the digestion. Makes the appetite sharp and strong—helps to digest the food—renders it easily assimilable—puts the blood making, blood purifying properties into it. Sends it tingling into every fiber of the body.
Puts cushions of flesh all around the nerves. Brings healthful, restful sleep—makes solid flesh—makes a new man of you.

If your druggist is honest, he will recommend it. If he is not, he will try to sell you something else.

Neglected constipation will make a man "not worth his salt." A listless, sad, bilious man, continually suffering from headaches and heartburns is the result of neglected constipation. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation.
They are truly superior. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative and two mild cathartics.
They never cause pain or grip. Druggists sell them.

men have landed in the fat offices; without a single exception these winners are men who, in speaking of the honorable commissioner of pensions, employ language which couldn't go through the mails on a postal card; without a single exception the men whom Evans recommended have received a ruthless turn-down. And the net result of it all is the demonstration of the fact that Evans isn't deuce high with this administration. It has been shown him in the most practical way that he is regarded merely as an office holder who has been given all he had a right to aspire to, and that he is in no sense the adviser of the administration that his friends and his fancy pictured him.

Has Been All One Way.
It is unnecessary to go into details as to the different offices. Brownlow's list of favorites is unbroken. He has won in every case.

The last two appointments have given special pain to Evans, and it is because these show so clearly the feelings of the administration toward him that the commissioner has decided he would stand it no longer.

Mr. Austin, who has been made marshal of the eastern district, started out last year as the manager of the Evans vice-presidential boom. He was Evans's confidential man up to the St. Louis convention when, on a tip from Hanna, he threw Evans overboard and had his friends go to Hobart.

Later when there was an effort to get the commission to endorse Evans for the cabinet, Austin, who was a member of that committee, protested and demanded a roll call so he could go on record as opposed to the man whose friends call him "governor."

The appointment of Dave Nunn as collector for the western district was another bitter pill for the commissioner, who not only protested personally, but placed on file a great stack of protests from carefully worked-up sources against his former political friend. This appointment has not been sent to the senate yet.

Resignation Predicted as a Certainty.
There has not been a break in the clouds.
Brownlow has dodged his everything. Evans has got nothing.

Under any circumstances he would feel sore; under the present circumstances, in view of his coming here with the sole purpose and desire to down Brownlow, he feels hurt—mortified.

Evans is a man of great force. He is a man of high sensitiveness, and he feels that his rights have been outraged.
The information that he contemplates resigning his place and going back home in discontent comes to me from prominent Tennesseeans, a man who ought to know what the commissioner will take this step.
"He's sure to do it," said this gentleman at the cabinet as a reward for the work resulting from the blow which Mark Hanna landed on his solar plexus at St. Louis,
was offered the pension commissionership
one as offices go, and one much sought
after, as far beneath that which Mr. Evans should have. They said he would decline it.

GOLDITES GATHER IN CONVENTION

Carlisle Chosen Permanent Chairman by Acclamation.

HE MADE A LENGTHY SPEECH Dwelt at Length on the Tariff and Attacked Democracy.

HON. HENRY WATTERSON WAS CALLED ON

In His Atrabilious Fashion He Damned Democrats and Sent Silver to a Hot and Speedy Grave.

Convention Hall, Louisville, Ky., July 14.— The gold convention today and tonight brought to Louisville from all parts of the "bloody ground" politicians who came with the purpose, as they put it, of "sustaining true democracy and bringing back to such those who have strayed after a silver idol." There was almost a constant flow of orators.

The first overflowing of enthusiasm was when Senator William Lindsay entered the hall, and before the cheering for him could die out, ex-Secretary John C. Breckinridge did. Hon. Henry Watterson appeared and gave a fresh impetus to the enthusiasm.
Hon. George M. Davis, the duty of calling the convention to order fell upon the Hon.
A. J. Carroll, of Louisville. He introduced Hon. James C. Simms, of Bowling Green, as temporary chairman of the convention.
Permanent organization was speedily effected with the Hon. John G. Carlisle as chairman.

In opening his speech Mr. Carlisle said:
"I congratulate the national democrats of Kentucky upon the magnificent response they have made to the call for this convention, and I congratulate the friends of this auspicious opening of a campaign which, I am sure, will be memorable in the annals of our history."

Mr. Carlisle then proceeded to attack the policy of the administration, and to declare that the principles of true democracy as exemplified by the administration of Grover Cleveland were being abandoned.
He declared that the principles of true democracy as exemplified by the administration
of Grover Cleveland were being abandoned.

adopted there did not even possess the merit of originality. He said that the free coinage of silver was a political issue, and as dead as the institution of African slavery, and that no political party could hope to live on a platform which advocated it.
He referred to the men in congress who advocate silver as children playing in the dark and he denounced the majority of the democratic party as populists and anarchists. He said that the majority of the party had no leaders and that the late campaign was a disgrace to American manhood.

His reference to the situation in Kentucky was entirely egotistical, and he spoke at great length of what he had personally done for the democracy in that state. In conclusion he said:

"Of political ambition I have had none which has not embraced the glory of my country and the happiness and prosperity of my countrymen. I have given him books and music and peace, yea, and all that should accompany the man who has done his duty as God has given him the light to know and the sight to see.
I have done his duty as God has given me, out of the democratic party."

Mr. Watterson's speech was met with punctuated by voices and hands expressing approval of his utterances, but the loudest and longest perhaps was when he dramatically declared that the coinage of silver was a political issue, and as dead as the institution of African slavery.
At the conclusion of Mr. Watterson's speech the resolutions which had by this time been formulated were read by Hon.
W. C. P. Breckinridge. The sentiment revealed in these resolutions found the fullest approbation and the unanimous adoption followed without dissent. Ken-tions were read and unanimously adopted.

NO AMENDMENT FOR HAWAIIAN TREATY

Senate Committee on Foreign Affairs Agrees on Report.

ONLY SEVEN MEMBERS THERE

Resolution for Ratification Receives All but Two Votes.

SENATORS TURPIE AND DANIEL IN MINORITY

Senator Turpie Says He Favors the Treaty, but Thinks There Should Be an Amendment.

Washington, July 14.—The senate committee on foreign relations agreed today to report a resolution for the ratification of the Hawaiian annexation treaty without amendment.

Of the eleven members of the committee only seven were present. These were Messrs. Davis, Cullom, Foraker, Clark, Morgan, Turpie and Daniel, and of these all but Messrs. Turpie and Daniel cast their votes for the resolution of ratification. Senator Frye's vote was also cast in that interest by Senator Davis. Mr. Frye having left instructions to that effect.

Sensors Daniel and Turpie did not take a positive stand in opposition to the treaty, but both expressed the opinion that it was not expedient nor consistent with the vital importance of the subject that the treaty should be pressed to immediate consideration and that if the senate was not to take the subject up at the present session the better course would be to leave it in the committee until the senate should be prepared to proceed with its consideration.

Senator Turpie expressed himself as inclined to favor the treaty, but said that he thought it should be amended. He, however, withheld his amendment upon the suggestion that the majority would consider it preferable to have the amendments offered in the senate.

Senator Davis, chairman of the foreign relations committee, later reported the action of the committee to the senate. There was no reference to the report beyond an inquiry by Senator White as to whether there would be an effort to take up the treaty at the present session. To this Mr. Davis replied that he was not now prepared to say.

These two ballads attained a popularity in this country and Canada that has seldom been surpassed and the composer realized over $50,000 in royalties.

DR. WHITSETT WILL NOT RESIGN

Says He Has No Idea of Giving Up Seminary Presidency.

Louisville, Ky., July 14.—Rev. Dr. Whitsett, president, Southern Baptist Theological seminary, denies that he will resign. Many rumors relative to the resignation have been published in different parts of the country.

The following statement was obtained from the distinguished gentleman on his return from the south this morning: "Louisville, Ky., July 14, 1897.—I have not the remotest idea of resigning the presidency of the Southern Baptist Theological seminary. Nothing could be farther from my thoughts."

Cured of Spasms by Dr. Miles' Nerve

THE many cases of spasms, St. Vitus dance and epilepsy that Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve Tonic has cured would alone give this great remedy wide reputation. Mrs. Walter A. Steward, 73 Broadway, Kingston, N. Y., says March 18, 1896: "In 1893, while on a visit to friends our little girl was taken with spasms. We hastened home to our family physician. He did all he could but failed. We called several physicians but the spasms continued, her tongue became partially paralyzed and the doctors said she would never talk again. Night and day we watched the poor little suffer and tried every remedy we had advertised for such cases but got no relief. We were giving Dr. Miles' Nerve Tonic after taking four bottles she was running about as well and happy as ever."

Night and day we watched the poor little suffer and tried every remedy we had advertised for such cases but got no relief. STUCK ON THE SUGAR SCHEDULE

The Tariff Bill, Conferees Making Haste Very Slowly.

ARE WIDER APART THAN EVER

Have Receded from All Agreement on Certain Articles.

BUT SUGAR IS THE MAIN CONTENTION

House Opposes the Stamp Tax on Stocks and Bonds—But Senate Insists Upon It.

Washington, July 14.—The conferees on the tariff bill found themselves today apparently further apart than they were at the beginning of the conference. There was no immediate prospect of agreement, and more than one member stated that the entanglement was such that the settlement might be indefinitely prolonged.

They state, in a very reserved manner, that there are numerous questions of difference, but refuse to go into details, over to other senators and members. From all that can be learned, however, there has been a general recession from the partial agreements made on the more important articles until sugar, wool, hides, etc., can be definitely fixed. Sugar is still the principal contention. The best reports represent the house conferees, Speaker Reed behind them, as holding out for the house sugar schedule without any change whatever, and the senators as quite determined not to yield to this extent. The house conferees insist that this schedule must be definitely fixed before other questions shall be again taken up. One of the other questions of secondary importance upon which sharp differences have arisen is the senate amendment for a stamp tax on stock and bonds. The house opposes the amendment, but the senators, while not wedded to it, insist upon it as necessary for revenue. The house is also insisting strenuously for the 20 per cent duty placed upon hides, and is at the same time persistently holding out for a restoration of gunny bags, cotton ties, etc., to the dutiable list.

A senator who talked with some of the conferees said: "There are in a temporary deadlock and they are all along the line. It looks as if the situation might remain unchanged for some weeks."

While this appears to be a correct outline of the situation today, the prevailing impression is that a settlement of one or two important questions would be speedily followed by a complete adjustment of all other differences.

The conferees remained in session until 10 o'clock today, and then adjourned until tomorrow, omitting the usual evening session. They had not reached a point where they could call in the democratic conferees, but all said progress had been made.

It was impossible to say whether the house or senate had the advantage of the day's work, as both sides looked weary and troubled.

AFTER THE SUGAR TRUST AGAIN

Simpson, of Kansas, Introduces Resolution of Investigation.

Washington, July 14.—Representative Simpson, of Kansas, today introduced in the house a resolution for the purpose of appointing a committee of five to investigate the sugar trust. The resolution is preceded by two whereas, the first of which declares that it is "currently asserted" that the American Sugar Refining Company has in violation of the law created a "trust monopoly," and the second that the company has used "unfair competition and stock" by unfair competition and legal means to crush out all other sugar manufacturers, and to secure to itself the power to depress the price of the raw sugar and to advance the price of the manufactured articles at will, thus threatening the cane and beet agriculturists.

WATSON'S DEN IMPALES BUTLER; BUTLER'S OPEN SVELLY STABS WATSON

Watson Denounces Butler as Snake in the Grass; Butler Writes of the Recent Nashville Conference.

"TRAITOR TO FRIEND AND FOE" HE STRIKES HARD AT WATSON

The Georgia Populist Writes Five Columns of Red Hot, Ringing, Scalding Denunciation of Butler and Fusionism. The Party Is Falling.

In the breaking up of the people's party which Mr. Butler has done so much to bring about, many other old-time republicans will be found doing just what Dunning did. If we cannot arrest the falling to pieces of our party, those who were once democrats will become republicans again, and those who were republicans will become democrats again. Fusion is dissolving popular loyalty into its original elements.—THOMAS E. WATSON.

Tom Watson thus publicly acknowledges that the populist party is going to pieces.

In a five column editorial which will be published in the regular weekly issue of The People's Party Paper tomorrow morning he tells the story of the party which he says was the altar upon which he placed his political life for sacrifice.

The editorial is startling, even when coming from Watson.

He goes further and says that no decent voter will tolerate the present policy of the party organization.

The editorial is the most scathing of any that has come in recent years from the great populist leader. That it will create a great sensation among the old-time followers of the party is certain. It will revolutionize populist thought and sentiment.

It will send the erstwhile populists back into the old parties like prodigal sons returning from their wanderings.

The editorial goes into all the causes that brought about the disintegration of the party, and tells of the final crushing blow which made the movement a part of the past. Butler is handled unmercifully. Watson accuses him with accomplishing the death of the party through his fusion policy, and denounces the national chairman as a snake in the grass to both friend and foe, who traded the party for office.

He speaks feelingly of the great principles for which he fought and tells of how much he has longed to bring about the union between the south and the west.

Of this he says: "I bring about this union I had put my political life upon the altar and sacrificed it, when I stepped out of the ranks of the great party, and still my ardent wish—for I knew that no other way could bring about power to the north and east be overthrown."

Watson explains why Dunning went back into the republican party, and denies that Dunning was ever a go-between. He charges Butler with the whole miserable fizzle of the populist party in the last campaign.

Watson holds out but little hope that the scattered parts of his party can be reorganized. He only offers this as a vague possibility:

"If ever the people's party becomes once more a moral power, inspiring the masses with hope and leading them onward to remedial legislation, and if then fusion will have to be forced beyond resurrection. No party can survive on the hesitant programme of some of its members. It must then to the other. No decent voter will tolerate such a policy in the party leaders and office seekers after that policy is understood."

"The people are not seeking a mere change of office holders. They want a change of laws. Fusion stops the growth of populism and halts the decay of the parties with which we fuse. Fusion props the old parties up while it scotches us. We are a minority, and fusion condemns us to remain so. Laws can't be changed under such a plan."

Watson claims that he is still a populist at heart. He says:

"It is hardly necessary for me to defend my personal character or my populist integrity from the attacks of a jealous trimmer like Butler. I was a populist, open and above board, while he was yet playing 'alliance democrat,' and I have always been a loyal friend and ally of the party. The events happened just as I predicted."

Watson closes his editorial with this to say of Butler's trade of the party:

"To sell out the party by fusions before it secures enough men in office to change the laws even if they so desired, seems to me the wildest of folly and the basest of treachery."

Cancer CURED BY

Mrs. A. H. Crausby, of 158 Kerr St., Memphis, Tenn., paid no attention to a small lump in her breast, but it soon developed into a cancer of the most malignant type. The best physicians in New York treated her, and finally cured her completely. As a last resort, S. S. S. was given, and an immediate improvement resulted; a few bottles cured her completely, and no sign of the disease has returned for ten years.

Woman and Society

Pittman—Youngblood.

Yesterday morning at the First Baptist church occurred the marriage of Miss Emma Lou Youngblood and Mr. John G. Pittman. There were no attendants. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Landrum, after which Mr. and Mrs. Pittman left the church to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, beautifully rendered by Mr. John O'Donnelly.

The bride, who is a beautiful young woman, was unusually lovely in a traveling gown of green cashmere, which she wore in gold braid. She wore a most becoming picture hat of green and white and carried white carnations. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Pittman left for an extended trip through the north.

THE SUPREME COURT

Decisions Rendered Wednesday, July

14, 1897.

REPORTED FOR THIS PAPER

By Stevens and Graham, Reporters of the Supreme Court of the State of Georgia.

Hozza v. Clark & Roberts. Before Judge

Lumpkin. Fulton superior court.

Lumpkin, P. J.—The record does not show that the appellant moved to dismiss an appeal on the ground that it was not entered within the time prescribed by law. It must affirmatively appear that the appeal was in fact so entered.

2. Where a judgment was entered in a justice's court on the 4th day of September, and the entry upon the docket of that court showed that an appeal was entered on the 12th day of the same month, the appeal was prima facie too late, nor could such appeal be saved because the appeal bond, which was undated, recited that it was entered within the time prescribed by law for entering appeals; nor because of the fact that the losing party went into the office of the justice with bond in proper time. It not appearing that the bond was taken before the time was left with the justice, or that it was ever filed with or approved by him before the entry was made, the appeal was made upon his docket.

Judgment affirmed. All concurring.

R. J. Jordan, for plaintiff in error.

L. P. Skeen, contra.

Hoffman v. Coker. Before Judge Lumpkin. Fulton superior court.

Coker, J.—The charges as a whole fully and fairly submitted to the jury the issue in dispute the complaint that certain instructions given by the court to the jury were not warranted by the evidence is not well founded; there was ample evidence in refusing to grant a new trial.

Judgment affirmed. All concurring.

Joseph H. Smith, for plaintiff in error.

John L. Hopkins & Sons, contra.

Karr v. Sulder et al. Before Judge

Hutchins. Fulton superior court.

Hutchins, J.—No error of law being complained of, and the evidence being conclusive, there was no abuse of discretion in overruling the motion for a new trial. Judgment affirmed. All concurring.

C. H. Brandt, for plaintiff in error.

T. M. Peeler, contra.

Porter, ex'r. v. Cook, only for use. Before Judge Hutchins. Walton superior court.

Hutchins, J.—There being sufficient evidence to support the verdict, the trial judge being satisfied therewith, and no error of law being complained of, the court will not control his discretion in refusing to set it aside and grant a new trial.

Judgment affirmed. All concurring.

Henry D. McDaniel and Foster & Butler, contra.

Days v. Atlanta and Charlotte Air-Line

Railway Company, and vice versa. Before Judge Kimsey. Hall superior court.

Kimsey, J.—Where it is sought to bring to trial the evidence introduced upon trial without incorporating the same in the bill of exceptions, and the bill of exceptions recites that "a brief of the evidence introduced upon the trial of said cause as is material to a clear understanding of the errors complained of has been approved by the court and is a part of the record," it is further the duty of the plaintiff to incorporate the same in his bill of exceptions within thirty days, and specifies "the brief of evidence in said cause" as a part of the bill of exceptions. The bill of exceptions as having been approved and filed at the time it was tendered to the judge, and where it appears that the bill of exceptions was not filed by him until after the expiration of thirty days, and where the evidence introduced upon trial was not incorporated in the bill of exceptions, and where the bill of exceptions was not filed by him until after the expiration of thirty
